

SpringFour works with leading companies across the country to deliver quality financial wellness resources into the hand of their customers

"We gauge the success of any assistance program through the lens of loan performance. We are very encouraged with the results of our partnership with SpringFour. For example, our customers who are provided with SpringFour referrals are twice as likely to engage in foreclosure prevention efforts, 15% more likely to complete a loan modification, and 10% more likely to remain current on their mortgage."

Scott Rodeman, SVP, U.S. Bank Mortgage Servicing, Default Operations

"SpringFour had a great proposition for bringing resources to customers who might be facing difficulties with repayment or potential default. It lets the customers get help where and when they need it and to get back on track with their finances."

Purva Sule, Director, BMO Partners Team

"With a shared social vision, and innovative, easy to use technology, a SpringFour partnership allows us to deliver financial wellness resources directly to our customers from our website, helping us to fulfill our mission and have positive impact on our customers and our communities."

Mark Gabriel, Director, Innovation & Strategic Alignment, Sunrise Banks

"Our partnership with SpringFour is a win-win-win. We're helping our customers find much needed savings in their ongoing monthly expenses, and we were able to very quickly gain a positive return on our investment in the service. It's a perfect example of how we can use partnerships to boost our customers' financial health and the health of our company."

Sasha Orloff, Founder, LendUp

"Partnering with SpringFour allows us to directly address our customers' needs in a way that we could not do alone."

Raul Vazquez, CEO, Opportun